The American Literary Gazette and Publishers' Circular.

[ESTABLISHED 1852.]

PUBLICATION OFFICE, 59 DUANE STREET, NEW YORK.

VOL. LVI., No. 6. NEW YORK, August 5, 1899. WHOLE No. 1436

D. Appleton & Co.'s New Books.

Snow on the Headlight.

A Story of the Great Burlington Strike. By CY WARMAN, author of "The Story of the Railroad," etc. 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

"Cy Warman is the story-teller of railroading."—Chicago Evening Post.

"Interesting railway story cleverly told—some thrilling incidents."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Our Navy in Time of War.

By FRANKLIN MATTHEWS. Appletons' Home-Reading Books. Illustrated. 12mo, cloth, 75 cents, net.

The essential technical points of our navy's achievements have been emphasized and exploited in this book, which is designed to interest the young reader in historical research. No more stirring chapter in our country's history could be selected than is contained in the story of the navy from Paul Jones to Dewey. This book should be in the library of every boy in the country.

Dr. Nikola's Experiment.

By GUY BOOTHBY, author of "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," etc. No. 269, Appletons' Town and Country Library. 12mo, cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 cents.

The mysterious figure of Dr. Nikola has obtained so strong a hold upon novel-readers that the reappearance of this dramatic character needs only to be announced to insure immediate attention. Mr. Boothby demonstrates again the value of suspended interest, and his story holds the reader until the last page is reached.

RHODA BROUGHTON'S NEW NOVEL.

The Game and the Candle.

By RHODA BROUGHTON, author of "Dear Faustina," "Scylla or Charybdis," etc. No. 268, Appletons' Town and Country Library. 12mo, cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 cents.

D. APPLETON & CO., = NEW YORK.

NEW NOVELS.

IN VAIN. By Henryk Sienkiewicz.

Translated from the Polish by JEREMIAH CURTIN. 16mo, $1.25.

Will increase the fame of Sienkiewicz.—Boston Journal.

The book is of absorbing interest.—Chicago Tribune.

Apart from its interest as the first book of the now famous author, it is remarkable for the views of life and character contained in its pages, which could have emanated only from a mind of exceptional power and quality.—San Francisco Argonaut.

THE MIRACLES OF ANTICHRIST. By Selma Lagerlof.

Translated from the Swedish by PAULINE BANCROFT FLACH. 12mo, cloth, extra, $1.50; Popular Edition, 75 cents.

A careful examination of the book has convinced us that Mrs. Flach's translation is excellent throughout, and that this delightful book has been rendered into almost equally delightful English. "The Miracles of Antichrist" is undoubtedly a masterpiece.—London Daily Chronicle.

 By the same author: THE STORY OF GOSTA BERLING. Translated from the Swedish by Pauline Bancroft Flach. 12mo, $1.75.

KING OR KNAVE, WHICH WINS? An Old Tale of Huguenot Days. By William Henry Johnson.

With four illustrations by CLYDE O. DE LAND. 12mo, $1.50.

Distinctly readable. If history could be taught in this fashion now, it would become worth while.—Time and the Hour.

 By the same author: THE KING'S HENCHMAN. A Chronicle of the Sixteenth Century. 12mo, cloth, extra, $1.50.

PASTOR NAUDIE'S YOUNG WIFE. By Edouard Rod.

Translated from the French by BRADLEY GILMAN. 12mo, $1.25.

The atmosphere of the old Huguenot stronghold of La Rochelle is admirably given, and the volume contains some masterly studies in character.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

EACH LIFE UNFULFILLED. By Anna Chapin Ray.

Author of "Teddy, Her Book," etc. 16mo, $1.25.

Genuinely American all through and consistently fluent and agreeable.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Simply written and enjoyable.—Boston Journal.

Places her among the promising young novelists of the country.—New York Times.

THE KINSHIP OF SOULS. A Narrative. By Reuen Thomas.

12mo, cloth, extra, $1.50.

A delightful story of travel, mingled with interesting discussions on theological and philosophical questions, as well as pertinent observations on other familiar topics. . . . The work is one of more than ordinary interest.—Green Bag, Boston.

THE DUKE'S SERVANTS. A Romance. By Sidney Herbert Burchell.

12mo, cloth, extra, $1.50.

A very pretty tale of the days of the early Stuarts, and George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham. . . . Mr. Burchell has caught the spirit and language of the time.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

FROMONT AND RISLER. By Alphonse Daudet.

Translated by GEORGE BURNHAM IVES, with an Introduction by CHARLES DE KAY. Photogravure frontispiece. 12mo, $1.50.

An admirable new translation.—Detroit News-Tribune.

WITHOUT DOGMA. By Henryk Sienkiewicz.

Popular Edition. Translated by IZA YOUNG. Photogravure frontispiece. 12mo, $1.00.

A profound psychological study and an absorbing story of high literary merit.—San Francisco Argonaut.

NOTES IN SEASON.

HARPER & BROTHERS will publish at once a collection of drawings by the well-known illustrator, W. T. Smedley, under the title of "Life and Character." The works of William Black, Thomas Nelson Page and Mary E. Wilkins, have all displayed Mr. Smedley's variety of conception of character, and for nearly twenty years his drawings have been conspicuous in the leading magazines. Some of the best of these are said to be contained in the forthcoming volume.

OWING to the growing demand for "The Celebrity," by Winston Churchill, a paper-covered edition not to exceed 100,000 is on press for publication on the 15th inst. by The Macmillan Company. This edition of "The Celebrity" will be supplied to the trade through the American News Company in their People's Library. "Richard Carvel," by the same author, is now running through its fiftieth thousand. It was published on June 1. Fifteen thousand copies were sold during the past week, and another large edition is on the press.

LITTLE, BROWN & CO. have in active preparation Mrs. Louise Chandler Moulton's new volume of poems, entitled "At the Wind's Will." In order to explain the thought she had in mind in taking this line from Rossetti's poem, "The Woodspurge," she prefixes a short poem which she has just written and has never published. The same firm announces a new volume of poems by Mrs. Mary Scott Fenollosa, many of whose quaint and original little lyrics have appeared in the leading magazines. Her life in Japan and familiarity with Japanese thought have deeply, but not unpleasantly, tinged her verse.

LONGMANS, GREEN & CO. have made arrangement to publish hereafter the authorized editions of William Morris's books formerly brought out by Roberts Brothers and later by Little, Brown & Co. These will include "The Earthly Paradise," three volumes, or separately, volume i., "Spring-Summer;" volume ii., "Autumn;" volume iii., "Winter;" "The Life and Death of Jason," "The Lovers of Gudrun," "Love is Enough," "The Æneids of Virgil," "The Story of Sigurd the Volsung," "Poems by the Way," "News from Nowhere," "Hopes and Fears for Art," "The Story of the Glittering Plain," "The House of the Wolfings," and "The Wood Beyond the World."

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS will publish on September 1 the first volume of the series of Historic Houses, entitled "Historic Homes of Old England." Among the contributors to this volume are the Duke of Marlborough, the Duchess of Cleveland, Viscount Emlyn, and the Countess of Warwick. The Rev. A. H. Malan, who edits the work, has an essay on "Alnwick Castle." Mr. Malan says in his preface: "The best sources of information on historic houses are county histories, papers of the various antiquarian and field club societies' transactions, and private family memoirs." As the editor points out, these sources are not accessible to the average traveller, and in each case he has selected as the author a person whose birth and bringing up have been intimately associated with the surroundings to be described.

DOUBLEDAY & MCCLURE COMPANY will publish shortly a volume of old ballads entitled "The Golden Trinity and the Green Bed." The book will contain the words and music of the songs, and the text will be illustrated with fourteen large drawings in color by Pamela Colman Smith. The edition will be limited to 500 copies. They will publish in October "Sons of Strength," by William R. Lighton, a romance dealing with a period of American history and a portion of the country practically untouched in fiction. The sub-title of the book is "A Romance of the Kansas Border Wars." It is the life story of a foundling, who, when grown, goes to Kansas and takes part in the stirring events which marked the struggle between the friends and the opponents of slavery in that State. They announce a story of the Middle West, entitled "The Gentleman from Indiana," by Booth Tarkington.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

Reekie, C: My Scottish sweetheart. N. Y. and Chic., F. Tennyson Neely, [1899] c. 3-213 p. D. buckram, $1; pap., 25 c. [2471

A romantic love-story. Just as one of the Collins steamers is about to leave New York Harbor a Scottish officer in the East India service falls overboard and is rescued by an American. Two years after this incident the American visits the soldier's relatives in Scotland, where he meets the heroine, who plays an important part in the pathetic scenes.

Ritter, J: P. The man who dared: a historical romance of the time of Robespierre; il. by G: Elmer Browne. N. Y., G: W. Dillingham Co., 1899. c. 2-284 p. D. cl., $1.25. [2472

The downfall of Robespierre is the theme of a novel which gives a realistic picture of Paris during the "Reign of Terror." The plot is ingenious, as it is interwoven with historic incidents and traditions of an exciting period in French history. The spirit of the French people during the dramatic scenes in the Convention Hall is shown, and the famous uprising between Tallien and the Thermidorians is graphically pictured. A love-story notable for heroic situations is also told.

Roark, Ruric N. Method in education: a text-book for teachers. N. Y., American Book Co., [1899.] c. 3-348 p. D. cl., $1. [2473

Develops in detail the applications of psychology in the work of teaching.

Russell, T. Baron. The mandate. N. Y., J: Lane, 1899. 6+348 p. D. cl., $1.50. [2475

The scenes are English. Two journalists, who are comparative strangers when first introduced, are brought into constant association, and an apparently warm friendship is the result; during the visit of one of these, a bachelor, to the home of his married friend, he learns that the latter has a fixed belief in hypnotism, also that it is within his power to entirely control the disciple of hypnosis. Through love for his friend's wife he tests the strange power, and there follows a social drama.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

AUGUST 5, 1899.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, must reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of "The American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of all trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

ONE ATTEMPT TO MAINTAIN THE ADVERTISED PRICE OF GOODS.

SPALDING & BROTHERS, the manufacturers of sporting goods, after a six months' fight with those who sold their patented goods below the advertised price, claim that their efforts thus far have been crowned with entire success. The announcement of their intention early this year attracted wide attention, and manufacturers and dealers generally have been watching with considerable curiosity the result of the stand taken in this matter by the Spaldings.

The Spaldings were moved to take this step by the course adopted by some of the larger stores to advertise to sell the goods manufactured and trade-marked by A. G. Spalding & Bros. at less than the retail price charged for them in the manufacturers' own store, and, in a few instances, at less even than the wholesale price. This interfered seriously with the business of the small dealers who sold sporting goods purchased direct from the Spaldings, and who, because their orders were small, received less discount than their larger rivals.

The Spaldings began operations by refusing to sell any of their goods to the department stores excepting at retail prices. The department stores were but little disturbed by this movement, because they were able to draw their supplies of Spaldings' goods from the jobbers at as low prices as they had been able to obtain by dealing with the manufacturers direct, and in some cases at even better terms. The Spaldings then decided to cut off the jobbers and refuse to sell to them. How serious this move was may be gathered from the fact that a very large percentage of the total business of the Spaldings was done through jobbers. In fact, the jobbers practically commanded the trade; to cut them off, therefore, amounted to a revolution in conducting their business. Before taking the step every effort was made to induce the jobber to maintain prices, but without success. Each jobber would argue that if he refused to sell to a department store another would, and so forth. Realizing that concert of action in this direction was impossible, the Spaldings finally announced that at a given date they would establish two prices on their goods—one a definite wholesale price, the other a definite retail price—and that they would make every possible effort to enforce these prices and to protect the retailer who lived up to his agreement with them. Beginning at the date set for the inaugurating of the new schedule, the firm would sell at the wholesale price only to such dealers as would agree to resell the goods at not less than the retail price fixed by the manufacturer. Any dealer who would agree to these terms, no matter how small his business was, was to be permitted to buy at the same price as the dealer whose order went up to the thousands of dollars.

The scheme was put in operation as announced, and, notwithstanding the almost general prophecy that the move was business suicide, it has proved successful all along the line. J. W. Spalding, in an interview with a representative of the New York Sun, is reported to have said that not a cent's worth of goods had been sold to jobbers and that they had not been able to buy any. In the beginning there were some efforts by persistent price-cutters to keep a supply of goods and cut the price. These men resorted to various schemes to keep up their supply. The favorite method was to purchase through some retail dealer who had the advantage of the wholesale price. The concern quadrupled its staff of travelling salesmen, and these men kept close watch everywhere. Every time they heard of a case of cutting they investigated and found out where the goods had come from, and then the privilege of purchasing at the wholesale price was taken from the dealer who had acted as the price-cutter's agent. In addition to the lookout kept by the men on the road, every order that was received by the concern was closely scrutinized. If a man ordered ten gross of an article where he had been in the habit of ordering one, or if the size of his business didn't warrant his giving as large an order as he did give, the order was investigated. It made no difference whether the cash accompanied the order; if the reason for its size could not be satisfactorily explained it was not filled and the check was returned.

It is significant that from the department stores, where the most trouble was expected, there has been none whatever. All the attempts at cutting had been by the smaller dealers. In some instances where small cuts had been made by these cutters, after they had supplied themselves with a stock of goods, salesmen were sent at once to demand an explanation. If the excuse was that the dealer wanted to turn the stock into money quickly an offer was made by the Spaldings to buy it all back at the price paid for it. In every case the offending dealers promptly put up the price again. Mr. Spalding said there had been no recent attempts at price-cutting and he considered the fight permanently won.

WORK OF THE AMERICAN BAPTIST PUBLICATION SOCIETY IN 1898.

According to the report of the publication committee of the American Baptist Publication Society, presented at its seventy-fifth anniversary, the publications of the year 1898, including tracts, have been 81 in number. Of these 1,108,250 copies have been printed. The entire number of books, pamphlets, periodicals, tracts, etc., new and old, printed during the year, is 46,522,104 copies, an increase of 1,499,335 copies over previous year. The total number of pages printed during the year, reduced to 16mo size, is 1,438,107,808, being an increase over the year ending March 31, 1898, of 60,281,564 16mo pages.

The total issues since the organization of the Society are 767,339,534 copies of books, periodicals, pamphlets, tracts, etc., equal to 17,271,629,148 16mo pages, and equivalent to 57,572,097 books of 300 pages each.

The Board of Managers, in enumerating the difficulties with which the work of the Society has been beset, conclude their report as follows:

"A fourth difficulty is to be found in the present condition of the book and periodical trade. Never was competition so severe or the margin of profit so narrow. This is due in part to the establishment of so many new publishing houses. The publishers of books and periodicals in this country increased from one thousand five hundred and seventy-seven in 1870 to six thousand two hundred and eighty-four in 1890, and have since the latter date been growing more and more numerous. It is due also in part to the fact that most of the great department stores in our large cities have book counters, which they frequently use as an aid in securing customers for other and better-paying wares. The result of this state of things is a cheapening of product, a lowering of profits, and a ruinous race for patronage. Several of the older book houses, unwilling to compete on such terms, have gone out of business. Those which remain are compelled to continue with small gains and an uncertain outlook. In our own case we are obliged to compete with several undenominational houses in our periodical business, and with all publishers in the general book trade. We have also competitors within the denomination in the Sunday-school Board of of the Southern Baptist Convention, and more recently in the National Publishing Company, founded by our colored brethren. Under these circumstances we are obliged to exercise the closest economy and to content ourselves with very narrow margins of profit. We are also compelled to spend large amounts in advertising, which still further reduces our margin. The net results are necessarily small.

"This leads us to another difficulty, and the only additional one we desire to mention at the present time. We have taken the greatest pains to secure the best writers in our denomination, and to publish the best possible books, pamphlets, and tracts for denominational and Christian use. Any one who will examine the issues of the past three years must acknowledge, we think, that intrinsically, as well as in mechanical form and finish, they are equal to those of the best publishing houses of the world. We regret to say that with all our efforts to bring these books to the attention of our people, many of them sell very slowly indeed. There are in this country nearly twenty-eight thousand Baptist ministers, over one hundred and seventy-two thousand officers and teachers in our Sunday-schools, and a total membership of more than four millions in our churches. It would seem that with such a constituency there should be no difficulty in disposing of large editions of all the books we publish. If there were no higher reason, one would think that denominational pride would induce a large sale. As a matter of fact, however, in many instances it takes from two to five years, or even longer, to dispose of an edition of only two thousand copies, many of which are sold outside of denominational lines through the general trade. Of course, until the first edition is sold, the cost of remunerating the author and of manufacture is withdrawn from our working capital, and lies uselessly on the shelf. We have now many thousands of dollars locked up in this way. What we need and plead for is a general awakening of our people to the value of the literature at their command."

DANGEROUS PAPER.

"Not a great while ago," says a writer in the London Daily News, "librarians and book-lovers in general were discussing the deterioration in the quality of paper of late years. It is curious to learn from her Majesty's waste-paper office that one result of the change of materials has been a decided increase in liability to fire wherever paper waste is accumulated in any great quantity. It is the rarest thing to find paper made of rags nowadays. It is made from wood and other vegetable materials which, chemically, are not very different from the component materials of a hayrick. If paper waste is stacked in large masses, and especially if it happens to be a little damp, heating takes place just as with a prematurely stacked hayrick, and spontaneous combustion may at any time break out in flame, as it has often been known to do in the farmyard. Of late years the greatest care and vigilance have been necessary to guard against this."

THE ANGLO-SAXON REVIEW.

JOHN LANE has brought out in this country the first volume of The Anglo-Saxon Review, the new quarterly magazine of which Lady Randolph Spencer Churchill is general editor. The first quarter's contributions on art, literature, science, history, biography, and the topics of the day, are presented in sumptuous leather binding, tooled in facsimile of the binding of Thevet's "Vies des Hommes Illustres," which was made for James I. in 1604. It is intended to bind each instalment of the Review in some famous historical or original binding of great artistic merit. This plan will be carried out under the direction of Cyril Davenport, of the department of historical bindings in the British Museum, who this quarter contributes a most interesting article on the binding selected, and will do so in every issue. The book is a folio, but owing to a paper manufactured especially for it, its 250 pages make a light and elegant volume. The illustrations will be a feature of this publication, which will be made under the direction of Lionel Cust, the director of the National Portrait Gallery. Where portraits of contemporaries are given they will for the most part be engravings on wood or lithographs, two arts which have been sadly neglected. In the first volume the illustrations are all portraits, and include reproductions of Ford's bust of Queen Victoria, Rubens' Anne of Austria, Sir Joshua Reynolds' Duchess of Devonshire, a full-length portrait of George Washington, after a painting by Gilbert Stuart, in the possession of Lord Rosebery, Robert Peel, and Lady Mary Wortley Montagu. For the literary side of the new venture, Lady Randolph Churchill has recruited illustrious supporters, both professional and amateur. Among the latter are Whitelaw Reid, Rudolf Slatin, and Lord Rosebery. Among the former are Henry James, Gilbert Parker, John Oliver Hobbes, Swinburne, and others of lesser fame. The editor has already received promises of contributions from statesmen, poets, novelists, and essayists of the highest reputation, but she promises to make room also for unknown writers of undoubted talent or with something valuable to set before the illustrious and intelligent subscribers guaranteed by the almost prohibitive price of the magazine—$6 a quarter. In point of real literary and artistic merit it is almost impossible for any new magazine to offer more than the generosity and enterprise of existing magazines already furnishes. But the material attractions of the volumes of The Anglo-Saxon Review as specimens of book-making will make them coveted by wealthy and ambitious book collectors. A list of annual subscribers will be published in every volume. The Prince of Wales heads the present list.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

Fielden's Magazine, the World's Record of Industrial Progress in Engineering, Shipbuilding, and Commerce, is the title of a new magazine shortly to be published in London.

IT is reported that a new magazine on the lines of Review of Reviews is to be published in the fall by the Harper-McClure alliance. The magazine will be edited by J. H. Finley, ex-president of Knox College.

OBITUARY NOTES.

DR. DANIEL GARRISON BRINTON, the well-known ethnologist and physician, died July 31, at Atlantic City, N. J. Dr. Brinton was born at Westchester, Pa., in 1837, and was graduated from Yale College in 1858, and from Jefferson Medical College in New York City in 1861. He served in the United States Volunteer Army during the Civil War, part of the time as Medical Director of the Eleventh Corps. He was editor of the Medical and Surgical Reporter, and also of the Quarterly Compendium of Medical Science, and he contributed many articles to other publications. His researches were chiefly devoted to ethnology and languages, especially in connection with the American races and states. In 1866 he received the medal of the Société Americaine de France for his work in American ethnology. He was professor of ethnology and archæology at the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia, and of American linguistics and archæology in the University of Pennsylvania, and President of the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society of Philadelphia. Dr. Brinton established a library and publishing house of original American literature for the purpose of placing within the reach of scholars authentic materials for the study of the languages and civilization of the native races of America. He himself contributed reports on his examination of mounds, shell heaps, rock inscriptions, and other antiquities. He was author of many works relating to the ethnology and philology of the United States, the better known among which are "Myths of the New World," "Religious Sentiment," "Aboriginal American Authors and their Productions," "American Hero Myths," "Maya Chronicles," "Conception of Love in Some American Languages," "Essays of an Americanist," "Library of Aboriginal American Literature" in eight volumes, "American Race," "Primer of Mayan Hieroglyphics," and "Races and Peoples." Not long ago he presented to the University of Pennsylvania his entire collection of books and manuscripts relating to the aboriginal languages of North and South America, embracing about 2000 titles, in addition to nearly 200 volumes of bound and indexed pamphlets bearing on the ethnology of the American Indians. Many of the manuscripts are original, and several are the only copies in existence.

COMMUNICATIONS.

PROTEST AGAINST DISCRIMINATING PRICES.

NEW YORK, August 1, 1899.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

SIR: The correspondent who signs himself "Bookseller" in your issue of June 24, desires an open reply from the publishers. Will he get it? He has asked a straightforward business question. The writer, a buyer for a department store, has often marvelled at the business methods of most of the large publishers.

Take the line in question as an example: the dealer buying the largest quantity can sell at the price the smaller buyer pays and still make a gross profit of 65 %.

Not to my knowledge does any such absurd difference in price, based on quantity, apply to any other line of goods. Such a scale of prices reads more like the odds on a horse race than it does the prices for a staple commodity. Do the manufacturers of books buy on the same basis as they sell? If they do, book paper must sell something like this: For an edition of 500 copies or less, 28c. per lb.; for 1000 copies, 27c.; and so on down to 17c. for an edition of 10,000 or over. If this isn't an analogous case I would be pleased to be shown why it is not.

There is another absurdity that has often struck me even more forcibly than this very unjust difference in price for varying quantities, and that is the so-called "bottom price." It is well known that the discount on the same book varies from one-third to forty and ten, according to the number purchased. If a single copy is ordered by mail the discount is one-third. If you order 250 or 500 of the same book the discount is forty and ten. If this policy is strictly adhered to right through a long list of miscellaneous books, then it must be that a very large majority of such a list is never sold at bottom price, even to the largest buyer in the trade.

In my connection with a department store handling a very large variety of goods, I know of no other commodity except books, where the difference between the maximum and minimum price to the trade is over 22 %, and where the bottom price, even to the largest buyers, is a myth.

In a recent interview with a gentleman holding an important position in the publishing trade the statement was made that we could not expect to make any profit on the very popular books. Now this was no news to us, but wasn't it rather a humiliating acknowledgment to make about a product absolutely controllable by the producer, as is a copyright book.

Does the publisher's percentage decrease with the popularity of a book until, when he strikes a big success, it vanishes altogether? He deserves to have it so, but I don't think such is the case.

In the words of "Bookseller" of Providence again: "What do the publishers mean?"

DEPARTMENT STORE.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

R. H. RUSSELL will soon issue "The Treasures of the Metroplitan Museum of Art," with sixty half-tone illustrations, and text by Arthur Hoeber.

THE TRIBUNE COMPANY, South Bend, Ind., will publish at once "La Salle in the Valley of the St. Joseph," by Bartlett and Lyon, of South Bend, illustrated with over twenty half-tone plates.

THOMAS WHITTAKER will publish immediately a volume on "The Temperance Problem and Social Reform," by Joseph Rountree and Arthur Sherwell, of which three editions were quickly taken up in London.

THE CONTINENTAL PUBLISHING CO. will publish this month a volume of short stories by William Winslow, entitled "A Daughter of Neptune." The scenes of some of the stories are laid in the West, where the author spent several years.

MISS MARGARET LEE, of 344 Lafayette Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., intends, with others, to petition Congress to remove all limitations of time as they exist in the copyright law of the United States, and to make the rights of the author and his heirs perpetual.

DODD, MEAD & CO. have in press "Wine on the Lees," by J. A. Steuart, a story that turns upon certain phases of the drink question; also, "The Minister of State," by Bernard Capes, a novel which has its scene of action at the period of the French Revolution.

JEAN BOUSSOD, MANZI, JOYANT & CO. have just ready parts 5 and 6 of the "1899 Figaro Salon," with descriptive text by Arsène Alexandre. Colored supplements of Jean Sala's "Mater Amorosa," and of J. Rolshoven's charming painting, "Great Grandmother's Finery," accompany these parts.

THE PENN PUBLISHING COMPANY, Philadelphia, has just purchased from the Woolfall Company the plates of "The Youth's Plutarch's Lives" and "Youth's Classical Dictionary," both by Edward S. Ellis. These will not be issued at present, but will be held for publication some time after the first of the coming year.

MISS AMY BROOKS has prepared a very striking set of illustrations for "Told Under the Cherry Tree," Grace Le Baron Upham's Christmas book for 1899. Mrs. Upham, the trade may be interested to know, is the wife of Henry Upham, of Damrell & Upham, well known as the proprietors of the "Old Corner" bookstore at Boston.

THE BAY VIEW PUBLISHING CO., whose New York office, at 156 Fifth Avenue, is under the management of John Hovendon, has purchased from the Rodgers Co., of Philadelphia, the stock and plates of the Excelsior edition of standard works. This series already contains 56 titles. The volumes are printed from new plates on good paper, and are very attractively bound.

GEORGE M. HILL CO., 166 S. Clinton Street, Chicago, have acquired the publishers' rights for L. Frank Baum's new book of nursery rhymes, entitled "Father Goose—His Book," which was first announced by the Picture Book Company. The book, which will be ready early in September, is on entirely original lines, and will be, mechanically, very attractive. The text is in specially drawn letters, and every page will be printed in two colors.

"AT last," says the New York Evening Post, "a publisher has been found to bless the bicycle. A couple of years ago bicycle riding was made responsible for the falling off of so many persons (no pun intended) in literary enthusiasm. The wheel took them away from books, and overcame the allurements of the library. Now, however, one publisher has discovered that the bicycle has at least been the means of awakening an interest in natural history, and reports as a direct result an increased demand for books on that subject."

JOHN ANDERSON, JR., expects to retire from the old book business and to open, some time in October, a book auction room in New York City. While the location has not yet been definitely decided upon, Mr. Anderson expects to settle in the neighborhood of Broadway and Twenty-eighth Street. His plan is to take a store where he will be able to make an attractive display of the books before each sale, and where the book-lover will be surrounded by a distinctively literary atmosphere. Certain other innovations that Mr. And rson proposes to introduce into the book auction business will undoubtedly commend his enterprise to his prospective patrons.

L. C. PAGE & CO. announce the immediate publication of the second edition of "The Queen's Service, or, the real Tommy Atkins," the first edition of which was exhausted on the day of publication. The subject of the book, the true experiences of a gentleman who served eight years in the British Regulars, is an interesting one, particularly at the present time, when rumors of war make the real condition of the English army of such paramount importance to the welfare of the empire. It is interesting also to compare the actual experiences of the real "Tommy Atkins" with his brother of fiction, so well known in "Soldiers Three" of Rudyard Kipling.

HENRY S. ALLEN, 123 East Twenty-eighth Street, New York, is about to publish an édition de luxe of "Mary, the Queen of the House of David," which was written at his request by the Rev. Dr. A. S. Walsh. This book was first published by subscription and had an extraordinarily large sale, being commended by eminent people in all parts of the English-speaking world. The new edition will be embellished with sixty full-page reproductions, finely executed, of celebrated paintings of scenes in the life of Mary, the mother of Jesus. Mechanically the book will be made as attractive as good printing, substantial paper, and artistic binding can make possible.

CASSELL & COMPANY, LIMITED, announce the second volume of the "Queen's Empire," a comprehensive "pictorial record" of various phases of life and activity in all parts of the British dominions. The first volume, published about a year ago, gained appreciative welcome on account of the excellence and variety of its photographic reproductions. The second and completing volume is fully equal to its predecessor in the quality and scope of its illustrations of the public buildings, social institutions, industries, customs, and sports of the inhabitants of the United Kingdom and of the various communities in all quarters of the world who own the sway of the Empress-Queen.

ANNA HOWELL CLARKSON, under the title "A Beautiful Life and Its Associations," has written the annals of the Iowa Central University. The beautiful life was lived by Mrs. Drusilla Allen Stoddard, for many years teacher in that institution. Incidentally Mrs. Clarkson writes much of college life in small towns, and she gives complete biographies of each of the presidents of the university. The book is elaborately illustrated and cannot fail to please all who ever came in contact with the many illustrious educators quoted. Mrs. Stoddard was a Baptist missionary and spent much of her time in India. Her influence over her pupils was phenomenal, and the book is full of letters gathered from old times. The book may be procured from the Brentano's and the American Baptist Publication Society.

THE CENTURY COMPANY has in preparation a volume entitled "Tramping with Tramps," a collection of articles by Josiah Flynt, who has made a special study of the tramp question. The book will have an introductory note by Dr. Andrew D. White, Ambassador to Germany, who speaks of the work as one of great importance and fascinating interest. Mr. Flynt has lived for many months among the tramps at home and abroad, and knows them more intimately, perhaps, than any other living man. His work will be illustrated. They will publish in October a volume of nautical tales, by Morgan Robertson, which will be entitled after the leading story in the book—"Where Angels Fear to Tread." Mr. Robertson, whose stories are familiar to readers of Harper's, The Atlantic, and McClure's, has spent ten years before the mast, which accounts for his intimate knowledge of ships and sailors; how he acquired his skill as a storyteller is another question, and more difficult to answer.

T. Y. CROWELL & CO. will publish early in the fall "Historic Americans," by E. S. Brooks, which consists of what the author aptly calls "Snap Shots" at twenty-six of the great men of the Republic, beginning with John Winthrop and ending with Grant. He includes George Washington, Franklin, the Adamses, Jefferson, Whitney, the inventor of the cotton-gin; Morse, the inventor of the telegraph, and others whose names are household words. They will publish shortly a little handy manual of dates, prepared by Mr. Powers, well known to the Boston trade as the chief proofreader for several printers, but recently with C. J. Peters & Son. It is almost small enough for a pocket, but by clever condensation and using a few obvious abbreviations he manages to confine each event to a line, and thus he covers six thousand years of history. The first half of the book is devoted to America, and a comparatively large space is given to the Spanish states, which Mr. Powers thinks will occupy more and more of our attention.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS, in accordance with an arrangement with Kipling, will continue the Outward Bound edition of his works by adding to it the volumes given to the public since this edition was begun, together with some earlier and hitherto unpublished writings. The six volumes which will be added to the twelve already issued will be illustrated by John Lockwood Kipling. Vol. XIII, "The Day's Work," Part I, including "The Son of His Father" (not included under this title in trade edition,) has just been published. Vol. XIV, "The Day's Work," Part 2, including "The Wreck of the Visigoth," "The Lang Men o' Larut," "Brugglesmith," and "The Record of Badalia Herodsfoot" (not included under this title in trade edition,) will be published next month or in September. Vol. XV, "From Sea to Sea," Part I, will be published in October. Vol. XVI, "From Sea to Sea," Part 2, collected letters of travel, including an accurate text of the "American Notes," with "Letters of Marque," "The City of the Dreadful Night," "The Smith Administration," etc., will be ready in November. Vol. XVII, "Early Verse," including "Schoolboy Lyrics," "Echoes" (not in any other edition,) and "Departmental Ditties," will be issued in December; and Vol. XVIII, "Stalky & Co.," 1900 (not in any other uniform edition,) will very likely not be published until next year.

THE MACMILLAN CO. will reissue their "Temple Shakespeare" in a form more suitable for the library, and in a larger type, the entire set to be completed in twelve volumes. An advantage which will be attached to this new form is that a long-desired wish to illustrate the notes may be gratified, as well as to illuminate the obsolete allusions in the text by illustrations from old and contemporary documents, and various other antiquarian sources. It will also give the editor, Mr. Gollancz, an opportunity of fully revising the text and adding to his notes where space prohibited it in the early edition, so that he will be able to use in this new edition the latest results obtained from his own and other researches. The editor will also add in the twelfth volume a life of the poet from all available sources, including again the results of his later researches. It is proposed to issue, also, a large-paper edition on a very limited scale. In this edition will be included some tinted photogravures, which it is impossible to issue in the cheap edition, and which will consist of contemporaries or places associated intimately with the story of Shakespeare. Of the "Temple Shakespeare" in its present form, a million copies have been sold. They will publish a primer on Dante by E. Garratt Gardner. It will form one of the series to be known as Temple Primers, which will be published in conjunction with Dent & Co. To the student of the life, the times, or the works of Dante, this primer will be the most comprehensive work of reference that has been issued on the subject. They will publish in October Egerton Castle's new book, "Young April," which is now running as a serial in Frank Leslie's Monthly.

FOREIGN NOTES.

METHUEN & CO., London, will publish in the fall Edward A. Fitzgerald's new book, "The Highest Andes."

A NEW edition of Chambers's "Encyclopædia of English Literature" is being prepared under the editorship of Dr. Patrick.

LADY BETTY BALFOUR is bringing out a "History of Lord Lytton's Indian Administration, compiled from letters and official papers." Lady Betty is the late Lord Lytton's daughter.

JAMES BOWDEN, formerly of Ward, Lock & Bowden, and more recently in business on his own account and manager for George Routledge & Sons, has accepted the post of general manager of the Religious Tract Society of London. He will dispose of his own publishing business, but will not immediately sever his connection with George Routledge & Sons.

THE LONDON BIBLE SOCIETY has begun to publish in its magazine the letters which passed between George Borrow and the society, and which Dr. Knapp failed to secure for his "Life of George Borrow," published by G. P. Putnam's Sons. It seems that the conjecture that Joseph John Gurney first introduced Borrow to the Bible Society is wrong. It was the Rev. Francis Cunningham, of Lowestoft. In the Rev. Mr. Cunningham's letter of introduction Borrow is thus described: "He is independent in circumstances, of no very exactly defined denomination of Christians, but I think of certain Christian principle. I shall make more inquiry about him and see him again. Next week I propose to meet him in London, and I could wish that you should see him, and, if you please, take him under your charge for a few days. He is the middle order of society, and a very producible person." Borrow was communicated with and negotiations followed which ended in his employment by the society.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ALLEGHENY, PA.—John J. Carney has filed a bill in equity against Morgan Z. Evans, bookseller, asking for an accounting of profits arising from his business, and a decree restraining the defendant from collecting rents and profits from certain real estate, and that a receiver be appointed to take charge of Evans's affairs.

ALPENA, MICH.—Adam Ludewig has bought Miss E. C. Nason's stock of books, etc., and will be pleased to receive catalogues, price lists, etc.

BALTIMORE, MD.—Goldsmith Bros., jobbers of books and stationery, at 206 East Baltimore Street, are making extensive improvements in their retail departments.

CLEVELAND, O.—A. M. Larwill, for the past fifteen years with the Cleveland News Company, has bought the University Book Store from F. L. Becker, and will continue the business at No. 2244 Euclid Avenue.

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—The International Book and Publishing Company, principal office at 1 Montgomery Street, has been incorporated to do printing, lithographing, bookbinding, etc. Capital, $2000. Incorporators: George E. Brightson, Albert C. Wall, Gustavus T. Kirby, H. Winslow Thayer, of Jersey City.

NEW YORK CITY.—Raphael Tuck & Sons Co. will remove in January next to new quarters on Fifth Avenue, where they will occupy an immense floor of 18,000 square feet, the single floor being much larger than the entire six floors they now occupy.

NEW YORK CITY.—The sheriff, on July 28, sold out the office furniture and stock of gold pens of John Foley, the veteran gold pen manufacturer, at 5 and 7 Dey Street, under an execution for $4098 in favor of Joseph R. Jackson, Jr. The sale realized over $600. Mr. Jackson bought the business at 187 Broadway from Mr. Foley in August, 1898, but afterward became dissatisfied and brought suit against Mr. Foley, in which he obtained a judgment for $4098 on July 6 last. Mr. Foley has been in the gold pen business for over forty years. In the past ten years business has decreased, and he has been in considerable family litigation.

TRAVERSE CITY, MICH.—H. W. Beecher, whose retirement from business connection with the Lyon, Beecher, Kymer & Palmer Company was announced recently, has purchased the bookstore here hitherto owned by the firm, and will be its sole owner. He retains his interest with Mr. Kymer in the Kalamazoo store.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

BOOKS WANTED.

☞ In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal only on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

☞ Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly," does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

Naturalism and Agnosticism

By JAMES WARD, M.A., LL.D., Fellow of Trinity College and Professor of Mental Philosophy, University of Cambridge. 2 vols., 12mo, $4.00 net.

This volume contains the much-talked-of Gifford Lectures delivered by Professor Ward in 1895–1896.

The Government of Municipalities

THE GREAT MUNICIPAL PROBLEMS STATED AND PRACTICAL METHODS SUGGESTED IN AID OF THEIR SOLUTION.

By the Hon. DORMAN B. EATON, formerly Commissioner of the United States Civil Service.

Cloth, 8vo, $4.00 net.

The author has treated the subject theoretically in reference to American constitutions and the relations of the city to the state, and practically in the light of the experiences of both American and European cities.

Both the actual and the true relations of political parties to city government are set forth; thus it is shown by what means parties have gained an unjustifiable control of American cities.

BOOKBINDING FOR PUBLISHERS

IT is easy enough to solicit and obtain business when you can offer low prices. But it is necessary to have something besides low prices. A good reputation, good work and the ability to live up to contracts are some of these qualifications. There are many bookbinders who will take work for a low price and then cheapen the binding and delay the work because they have not the facilities of turning it out, thus defrauding the publishers.

In my new place of business, in the building at the corner of Centre and Leonard Streets, where I have a floor space of over 40,000 square feet, filled with the very latest and most modern machinery, such as automatic cutting and trimming machines, rapid quadruple folding machines, new model Smyth sewing machines, the most powerful smashing machines, the very latest improved Crawley rounding and backing machines, Smyth bookcase machines, and the very finest stamping department in this city, all run by my own electric plant, also a very extensive marbling and edge gilding department, managed by the most skilled mechanics. My capacity is over 15,000 cloth bound books per day, and I can do the best work at the lowest prices. I can safely say that I can save publishers who have large editions to be bound from 10 to 20 per cent. on all bindings. I am now ready to make arrangements for bindings for the year 1900.

This is not a plant run by capitalists, or any other moneyed trust or syndicate as a venture, but a well-appointed bindery, managed by a practical man who has made a life study of bookbinding, and has risen from apprenticeship to ownership.
